

Elections Committee Sets Rules

● WITH a class elections slogan "Vote Five Thousand" Bill Wendt, advocate of the Student Council, announced the names of those appointed to serve on the Elections Committee at the Council meeting last Thursday.

Headed by Wendt, the committee consists of twelve persons representing various organizations on the campus and is set up to supervise elections regulations and the balloting stations. In addition to the Advocate, Jerry Raker, Janet Doldge, Al Zanner, Shirley Smith, Katherine Livezey, Dorothy Dean, Bill Perkins, Donald Lief, Ray Tucker, Bill Sheppard, Owin Craig, and Lloyd Cooper were selected for membership on the committee.

Election Rules

The election will be considered an open one subject to the following provisions drawn up by the Council advocate.

1. All campaigning other than the use of printed literature must be submitted to the Elections Committee for approval by the committee. (This applies most particularly to campaign stunts and the use of public address systems.)

2. The campaign period will not commence until the time of announcement of the eligible candidates by the Committee.

3. No use will be made of class room blackboards.

4. No campaigning will take place on election day within 200 feet, in all directions, of the ballot boxes.

5. The Hatchet may be used at any time during the campaign for the purpose of advertising candidates.

6. An election forum will be held at a place and a time to be announced by the committee at a later date. At this time all candidates will be introduced and class presidential candidates as well as candidates for member-at-large will deliver a five minute speech outlining their platforms.

Deadline October 20

Wendt emphasized the fact that all violations of elections regulations will be dealt with by the Committee immediately and drastically. The advocate also expressed great satisfaction at the enthusiasm shown at this early date by the candidates soliciting signatures for their petitions.

With the slogan "Vote Five Thousand" he is sure that the interest of the student body in these elections will be greater than ever before. Wendt also pointed out that the last day that petitions may be submitted is October 20, and that none will be considered after that date.

Guest Speakers Discuss Profits And High Costs

● "WHY HIGH PRICES" was the topic of the Current Affairs Club's opening forum meeting in Government 101 last Friday evening.

Guest speakers were Walter Mason, national legislative representative for the American Federation of Labor, and Lloyd C. Halvorson, an economist with the National Grange. Fritz Kahn, acting president of the club, served as master of ceremonies.

Mr. Halvorson suggested increasing taxes and lowering inventories as remedies for high prices, while Mr. Mason charged that excessive profits were the cause of the present high cost of living. Following the speeches, questions and comments from the audience were directed to the speakers.

In a brief business meeting following the discussion, officers were nominated.

Student Council Presents Movie

● STUDENT COUNCIL presents a movie program in Lisner Auditorium featuring the full length Russian picture, "Professor Mamlock."

DATE: Wednesday, October 15. TIME: Short subjects start at 2 p.m.

PLACE: Lisner Auditorium. ADMISSION: 15c plus activity card.

D. C. Legion Presents Fund For Machine

● A GIFT OF $1,000 to purchase cardiology equipment for the new hospital was presented to the University October 6, it was announced by Margaret Davis of the Public Relations Office.

The gift, made in behalf of the District of Columbia American Legion by Department Commander Owen C. Holleran, was presented to Dean Walter A. Bloedorn, Dean of the School of Medicine.

The gift is a contribution to The George Washington University Hospital Equipment Campaign for $925,000. A total of $819,154.86 has been contributed so far.

When the new hospital is opened next year it will contain a "heart station" for the prevention and treatment of heart disease, the main cause of deaths in the United States.

Out Clinic Continued

The station will contain the latest diagnostic aids, including two visocardiette units which permit immediate registration of heart impulses on sensitized paper. This allows the physician to study the heart condition immediately without waiting for dark room and developing processes.

The cardiology department will also have its own fluoroscopic instruments, giving physicians the opportunity to see a visual image on a screen.

The heart clinic for outpatients will be continued in the new hospital, where greater facilities will permit more cases to be handled, Dean Bloedorn says.

Literary Group Hears Reviewer

● A REVIEW of current books published this fall will be given by Carter Brook Jones, book reviewer for the Evening Star at the first fall program of the Literary Club, Thursday evening, at 8:10 p.m. in Room A, Columbian House.

University Students and Alumni Operate New Airport Drive-In

By LEN KIRSTEN

● FIVE UNIVERSITY students and graduates are still getting used to the idea that they are movie moguls. Since Paul J. Foley, class of 1943, conceived the idea this summer of a drive-in theater across the Potomac in Virginia, his four University fraternity brothers have been helping out. Even the builder, Mike Volk, is a former University student.

The Airport Drive-In Theater, Washington's newest outdoor movie, is staffed by Foley, Fred Stevenson, '39, Dick Eckerle, '49, Bill Brooks, '49, and Bill Lynch, '48. All are Pi Kappa Alpha members.

Stevenson, who is the manager, is also alumni advisor at the Pi Kappa Alpha house.

Eckerle, the red-haired assistant manager, is one of those campus dynamos. Besides his full time job at the 1,000 car theater, he is the

Committee Announces New Rule

Who's Who Group To Elect Students On Annual Basis

● THE NATIONAL committee of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities has handed down a new ruling, which will modify the selection of University students to Who's Who this year, Dr. Burnice Jarman, chairman of the Student Life Committee revealed last week.

Under the new regulation, a senior or graduate student who appeared in Who's Who previously will not automatically be included in the quota this year. A student committee will investigate the qualifications of logical students, and will then submit their selections to the faculty members of the Student Life Committee for final action.

Hoffacker Heads Group

Lew Hoffacker has been named to head the student committee. Committee members include Jean Ferguson, representing The Hatchet; Dick Generally, OKD; Betty Keeler, Panhellenic Council; Nancy Hanck, Mortar Board; and Dick Johnson, Interfraternity Council.

Betty Weitzel has been appointed administrative assistant for the committee.

To be considered eligible for Who's Who, a candidate must demonstrate service to The University, participation and leadership in school activities, and possession of a 2.0 scholarship average.

Dr. Jarman or any member of the committee will receive suggestions for candidates any time within the next ten days.

Swiss To Address First Gathering Of German Club

● CATHERINE OSANN, president of the German Club, invites all students interested in the German language to attend the first meeting of the German Club on Friday evening, October 24, at 8 p.m. in Room C at Columbian House.

Mr. Rickenbach, assistant press attache of the Swiss Legation will speak in German on the universities in Switzerland. Following this will be the singing of German songs, and refreshments will be served.

Movies, Cheers, Jazz Highlight Lisner Rally

● A COMBINATION JAZZ concert and pep rally for the benefit of the Hospital Fund will be held in Lisner Auditorium tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. Admission has been set at 15 cents when accompanied by a student activities booklet.

With this program, Tom Hurst, social chairman of the Student Council, is initiating a new platform to provide The University what he describes as "an enlarged and more varied social program."

Delta Phi Epsilon Introduces Carson As New Advisor

● UNIVERSITY chapter of Delta Phi Epsilon, foreign service fraternity, will introduce their new advisor, Dr. Charles Carson, to upperclass foreign affairs students at the Phi Sig house, 1734 New Hampshire Avenue, N. W., Wednesday, at 8:15 p.m.

Dr. Carson, professorial lecturer in international economics, is also with the Office of International Trade in the Commerce Department. He received his D. C. S. from New York University and served on the faculty of that institution for 13 years. Simultaneously he was on the research staff of the Institute of International Finance.

Bill Wendt, president of the group, wishes it to be known that all junior and senior foreign affairs majors are invited to the affair. The fraternity will open its rush program at this first function of the season.

Dean Elmer Kayser and Dr. A. E. Burns have also been invited to speak to the organization and its guests.

Following a short speakers meeting, there will be a social session in the Phi Sig recreation room.

Brothers of Delta Phi Epsilon met at a luncheon-meeting at the All States Cafeteria last Friday. The group plans to continue this practice weekly or bi-weekly.

A fourteen-piece band under the direction of Ray Payne will provide music for the affair. Vocal interpretations will be furnished by Jody Miller; Jack Reagan; and the Four Clefs; Pat Calloway, Bill Balle, Pete Kouzes, and Ronnie Dowling. Don Kreger will serve as master of ceremonies.

Movies of University football games this year will be shown with comments by Head Coach Stahley. Max Farrington, athletic director and director of men's activities, will give a short talk on the proposed Student Union, Field House, and the football team's practice field.

The rally will break the musical program into two parts. The band will play the following numbers: "Together," "Je Vous Aime," "Rose Room," a medley of "Mam'selle" and "Laura," "I'm in the Mood for Love," "It Had to Be You," "That's My Desire," "East of the Sun" and "Real Thing."

Cheerleaders, headed by Tom Pence and Shirley Smith will be on hand to lead the group in football cheers. All the football players will be introduced, and Carl Butkus, captain of the team, will speak.

Hurst says that if this affair is well attended plans for similar functions will be considered for later in the football season.

Foreign Students Plan First Social

● ALL FOREIGN students at the University and members of the International Student Society will be welcomed by President Doris Nahm at the Society's initial event of the year in the International House, Thursday, at 8:30 p.m.

At this opening business meeting and social get-together plans will be made for future programs, and light refreshments will be served.

The society functions on campus for the purpose of aiding foreign students to become better acquainted with the university. International House, 2116 G Street, has been set aside for their use as a gathering place on the campus. The office of Professor Delbert, advisor to foreign students, is also in this building.

With several hundred foreign students now enrolled, the officers hope to carry out a much more active program than in past years.

Posters Advertise For Homecoming

● ENTRIES IN the G. W. Homecoming Poster Contest must be brought to the Student Council office in Columbian House by Friday, October 17, Elsie Deeter, 1945 winner of the contest and Art Director of this year's Homecoming Committee, has announced. The posters should advertise the Homecoming Ball, November 1.

In a departure from last year's procedure, the students will be judges of the contest this year. Posters will be exhibited in the Student Club on October 20 and 21, and ballots cast there will be counted on the night of the twenty-first.

The first prize is ten dollars, the second is five dollars, and two tickets to the Homecoming Ball will be given as third prize. Everyone interested in participating may contact Elsie Deeter, OXford 2023, for further information.

Honorary Elects Officers For Year

● IRVING H. Taylor, Jr., was elected president of Phi Eta Sigma, honorary fraternity for freshmen who attain a 3.50 scholastic average, at the group's meeting last Friday night.

Other officers chosen were Joseph J. Wolf, vice-president; and David S. Davis, secretary-treasurer. The organization decided to initiate new members in December.

Names Deadline

● JOY SAALFRANK, assistant editor of the Cherry Tree, has requested that students of all classes have their pictures taken for the yearbook now. Appointments may be made in the Student Club from 12 to 2 and from 5 to 7 p.m. Pictures will be taken at Holbrook Studio, 2038 Eye Street N.W. Absolutely no individual pictures will be taken after November 8.

Stepping Forward

• WITH THE ANNOUNCEMENT of the purchase of a building in which the University's Student Union is to be housed, as well as an announcement of the acquisition of the Everglades Apartments for use as a nurses' home, we have tangible evidence at last that the University has taken its first major post-war expansion step.

While this is economically a bad time to buy, the buildings are a start in fulfilling the need of many years. With plans calling for a University of 20,000 students, such expansion in the University plant is an obvious necessity. In any case, we feel that the cost of these buildings will be more than repaid by the benefits to be derived from them. We trust, however, that it will be kept in mind that the present Student Union is a temporary measure, a miniature of the permanent Student Union building.

One of the unfortunate aspects of the present building is the time which will be needed to remodel it, for there is little hope that work will be completed before next spring. We assume that this will be started as soon as possible, to facilitate early use of the Union.

Centrally located, the building should do much to unify school activities and to promote school spirit, the lack of which has caused so much concern in the past.

The Student Council committee appointed to recommend the facilities to be included in the new building is fortunate in that much of the research needed for such an undertaking has already been done. Surveys of Student Union buildings on other campuses, conducted by previous committees appointed last year, should provide a logical starting point for the present committee.

An obvious inclusion in the Student Union would be another version of the Student Club, including the small tables and a snack bar, but excluding the dreariness and lack of imagination so visible in the present club.

Independent of the student club should be a cafeteria with facilities for serving hot meals, and we don't mean just coffee, soup, and sandwiches. The cafeteria should be so arranged that it could be cleared for use as a dance floor when wanted.

In addition, there should be offices for such student activities as the Student Council, the Cherry Tree, The Hatchet, the Religious Council, the Interfraternity Council, and the Panhellenic Council, as well as offices for the Activities Directors, Miss Kirkbride and Mr. Farrington, and club rooms which could be assigned to individual clubs when desired.

Books and Bookings

By LEIGH CURRY AND BOB REARDON

• IN CASE YOU like French movies, keep in mind what the New York Times calls "the French answer to 'Gone With the Wind,'" "Les Enfants Du Paradis," beginning tomorrow at the Little Theater. If you are a newcomer, you might be happy to know that the Little features many good foreign films (in original tongue but with English dialogue titles) and the better Hollywood productions, particularly the old greats.

This is the first showing of "Les Enfants Du Paradis" in Washington. In fact if you want to see the special Washington premier, call now and reserve either a $1.80 or $3.60 seat for tonight. The American Aid to France Committee, under the patronage of M. Bonnet, the French Ambassador, and his wife, are sponsoring this benefit performance.

Unlike most of the foreign films, limited in cast and scenery because of their budgets, this great masterpiece, completing the third year of its run at the Madeleine Theater in Paris, has several thousands in the cast and luxuriant scenery.

The story of "Les Enfants Du Paradis" is about Debureau, France's greatest pantomimist—"finest since Chaplain's greatest days," says the New York Post—and his wanderings through the famed Boulevard Du Temple. Boulevard Du Temple, where everything happens, is a continuous Mardi Gras and the minstrel Debureau is one of its greatest characters. The plot is taken from the lives of its most fascinating people. The principle ones are portrayed by some of France's most talented actors—Jean Louis Barault, Arletty and Pierre Brasseur.

The New York Herald Tribune emphasizes its drama that you won't want to miss: "... 'Les Enfants Du Paradis' employs the full vocabulary of the screen to create a world of depth, power and enchantment. An absorbing tale of human experience shared by clowns, beggars, murderers, noblemen, and good and bad women."

• LIKE "Les Enfants Du Paradis," "The Thibaults" reveals the tremendous strides France has taken to regain her prewar literary eminence. Not many novels of lasting value have come out of France since hostilities ended. Most of the leading writers have thrown their energy into political controversy for the Paris papers, with little time left for creative work.

Martin DuGard is recognized as one of the foremost contemporary novelists of his country. His great novel, "The Thibaults," appeared before the war, and is available in this country in two volumes. It is an exhaustive study of the war, and the first part of that great struggle.

The thoroughness of the story, and the author's insight into the bourgeois state of mind, leave little to the imagination. It is true that the strong emphasis on the socialist movement tends to exclude from the story certain viewpoints which are a part of the scene; however, the exclusions are fragmentary and impossible to include in so monumental a work.

Especially interesting to those of us who try to understand the psychology that breeds wars—who can afford not to?—is the final section of the book, dealing with the effect of mass hysteria that grows out of suspicion and distrust in the foreign offices. The details of the socialists' last-ditch stand against war are particularly important in relation to the search for peace today.

Superimposed on the social problems of the period is an indecisive study of a search for peace of mind and an unusual love story.

• NOT IN CONTRAST but in addition should you read Fritz von Unruh's "The End is Not Yet." If there is any similarity to the above novel, it is only in that the authors of both are intent upon impressing the world that war is futile and will never solve our problems. However, where DuGard is concerned with the causes, Unruh is concerned with the horrors and sufferings of war.

Though relating what has happened in Europe for the past fifteen years, Unruh seems to be using the events merely as tools to impress upon us the sadness of the homeless, the enormous sacrifices made by the courageous "little" people, all for a few men with ideologies, who constantly shout that theirs is the only one, the absolute, the authority. All ideologies, Unruh feels, show their true light when they have to resort to "purges," secret police, suppression, and, finally, war.

The book is intended for us more than for any country. Driven here by the Nazis, Unruh quickly came to love and know America; therefore, not only does he feel that we are the lone hope for a better world, but is warning us of the real dangers and feels that we need a direct and shocking comprehension of where the world is going. In "The End is Not Yet," Unruh tries to shock us time and time again by the many dramatic scenes throughout the novel.

That it is cynical and bitter does not detract from the fact that Unruh, as evidenced by the title, still has hope. With America taking the lead, he feels that there might be a chance for a really new beginning.

• DON'T FORGET The jazz concert tomorrow night at Lisner. It's the first performance of its kind at the University, so why not drop around?

Poet's Corner

THE NEW LOOK

We mourn thy passing
Oh dimpled knee,
For skirts today
Must have Dig-Ni-Ty

The skirts they say
Are now more teasing
But it sure is hard
To follow their reas'ning

When all around
The Campus Scene
Not even a varicose
Vein is seen.

Of short skirts today
There's scarce a trace
It's now just one
Huge, vast Sack Race.

Could it be
Oh tell me please!
A new born hope
For knobby knees?

Or else perhaps
A cunning guise,
Bowed legs to hold
From prying eyes.

We rant, we rave
We roar, we rankle,
We get no charge
From a bony ankle!

So if you're tired
Of our caresses
Just keep on wearing
Those dam long dresses.

Guest Editorial

• SPIRIT, THAT factor of student life usually spoken of as nonexistent at the University, is now a definite reality here, and has come a long way since the reinstitution of a full scale athletic program last year, but it is still not up to the standards that might be expected of an institution of this size.

Often thought of as an elusive mass frame of mind that just happens, spirit is a quality which the entire student body must continually strive to attain. The job cannot apathetically be left up to the cheerleaders and other organized groups. The greater burden of the work involved is as usual being carried by the Greeks and other organized groups, while the student body as a whole must contribute moral support with their enthusiastic attendance at athletic and social events.

The game with Wake Forest this Saturday when the football team makes its first home appearance after three heart-breaking out of town games, will be a real test of whatever spirit there is at the University. It's up to you.

Amendments

• THE FOLLOWING AMENDMENTS have been proposed to the Student Council Constitution:

Article I The Student Council

There is hereby vested in The Student Council the jurisdiction and authority to regulate, supervise, and coordinate all student activities whose constitution has been approved by the Council.

Article VIII Student Activities

The President of the Religious Council will be a major activity.

Dance Club Meeting Set

Hanck Announces Modern Dancers Open Fall Season

• OPENING THEIR 1947 season, Group II of the Dance Production Groups recently reorganized, will hold a meeting in Building J at 4 p.m., Thursday, Nancy Hanck, publicity director in charge of press relations, announced today.

Miss Hanck revealed that there are three groups which combine to make up the organization. Group III is the beginners' group from which the members advance to Group II as they gain experience. Group I is composed of the best dancers in the club. Membership in this group is by election at the end of the year and is based upon aptitude and experience.

Group III will meet on Monday at 4 p.m. in Building J while Group I will meet Tuesday at the same hour and place.

1947 Officers

Officers of the groups include Miss Elizabeth Burnier, instructor; Elizabeth Logan, business director; Audrey Rand, art publicity director; Margaret Mendephall, business manager of Group II; and Ann Diffenderfer, business manager of Group III.

Last year, the Dance Production Groups, under the name of "Orchestra," collaborated with the University Players in several of their productions as well as presenting a recital of their own which featured twelve numbers, at the end of the year. Plans are being made to continue such appearances this year.

The Groups were originally organized by the Alumni Association to create interest in techniques of modern dance.

V. A. Sets Final Date For Filling Book Requisitions

• BOOKS AND supplies will not be available to veterans on government requisitions after November 26, Mitchell Dreese, Director of Veterans Education announced. Veterans were cautioned to requisition all supplies, including blue books for finals, before that date.

To meet the needs of the record 7,000 veterans enrolled at the University this semester, the Veterans Office, 2029 H Street N.W. has extended its hours.

The office is now open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., except Thursday, when it is open from 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. and Saturday, when the hours are from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Books and supply requisitions are processed in Room 11.

The Veterans Administration has indicated checks for the months of September and October will be mailed on November 1.

Religious Club Sponsors Party At Strong Hall

• ALL UNIVERSITY Night was sponsored last Wednesday evening on Strong Hall Roof by the Religious Council for all newcomers interested in joining one of the eight religious clubs on the campus.

Jack Hurkett, president of the Religious Council, led the meeting and introduced the presidents and advisors of the various religious clubs. Earl Miller led the group in folk games, some of which were "Skating Away" and "Rosellie."

Dr. Folkemer, head of the Department of Religion, spoke to the group and said that additional courses in Philosophy of Religion and Readings in Religion would be added next semester. He said, "these are days when not only the University but the whole country is beginning to think in spiritual terms."

The University thinks religion is as much an integral part of learning as mathematics, English, and science, and has reached the place where it feels it can no longer be without religion. These clubs are practical examples of this religious emphasis.

Following Dr. Folkemer's address, the Rev. William Sprengle, advisor of the Lutheran Student Association, led community singing with such songs as "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "Tom Tinker," and "Found a Peanut."

Punch, cookies and cake were served under the direction of the Wesley Methodist Club.

Hatchet Will Meet Tomorrow Night

• REGULAR MEMBERS of The Hatchet staff are reminded of the meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Hatchet office, second floor, Building M.

Many positions on the staff are yet unfilled and all other University students interested in newspaper work are invited to attend the meeting and take assignments. Rewriters, news reporters, sports writers and typists are especially needed.

Drama Group Plans Tryouts

• PRESIDENT OF The University Players, Jane Summers, has announced that the student drama organization's first meeting will be held in Government 101, October 23, at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Natalie E. White, a University and Yale graduate, and Edward P. Mangum, new directors of the University Players, will be introduced to the group. Announcements will be made regarding dates for individual try-outs and the schedule of plays.

Students from all departments of the University, with day or night classes and taking six credit hours or more, are eligible for membership if interested in any phase of the drama.

Assistance Needed

Assistance is needed in the fields of carpentry, painting, lighting, costume, make-up, property, music, publicity, acting, and box office.

Officers of the organization include Robert Stevens, vice-president, and Mary Ellen Vincent, secretary. No dues are required and an active interest in drama production is the only prerequisite.

Mr. Mangum has announced the purchase of a cyclorama, a curved sky drop back of the stage giving the effect of sky, to be delivered in three weeks.

"It makes the stage 50 per cent more usable," said Mr. Mangum, "and adds plasticity."

Sell Cherry Tree

• SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR the 1948 Cherry Tree can be purchased now at the booth open in the Student Club from 12 to 2 and from 5 to 7 p.m. daily, according to Joy Saalfrank, Assistant Editor.

Claude Thornhill's Band Plays For Homecoming

FRAN WARREN

Evening Features Crowning Of Queen To Rule At Dance

• FRAN WARREN, famous singing star of Claude Thornhill's orchestra, will be one of the main attractions at the Homecoming Ball, to be held November 1, at the National Guard Armory.

Claude Thornhill and his orchestra were recently rated one of the six top bands in the country and were called "the band with the brightest future" by Bill Gottlieb of the Washington Post.

The orchestras of Claude Thornhill and Jack Morton will supply music from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. for continuous dancing on the 20,000 square feet of dancing area at the Armory.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. The name of the queen will not be disclosed until she is called forward to be crowned.

The girls who are candidates for the honor will be dressed in different colored dresses and will carry Fall flowers. They will be on stage when the queen is crowned. Robert Viano, associate editor of Pic magazine, will be present and has been asked to crown the queen. The ceremonies will last approximately 15 minutes with Fremont Jewell, Student Council president, acting as master-of-ceremonies.

Pictures of the candidates for Homecoming queen have been sent to John Powers, Harry Conover and Earl Carroll, who will select the name of the queen.

Decorations will be centered on the bandstand due to the extreme size of the building. A nine thousand dollar public address system, with facilities for broadcasting, has been installed in the Armory.

Tables will be plentiful, according to Archie Harrison, publicity chairman of the Homecoming Committee, and special tables will be reserved for the fraternities. "Please do not call for reservations as there (See HOMECOMING, Page 8)

Layos Reveals Veterans Club Prolongs Drive

• THE VETERANS Club is continuing its membership campaign which was begun at registration, Joe Layos, club president, announced last week.

Any University student veteran of World War II is eligible for membership in the club, one of the oldest organizations of its type in the country.

The Veterans Club was formed by seventeen ex-servicemen in the fall of 1943 to help orient the returning veterans to college life. Since then the organization has obtained a clubhouse at 722 22nd Street, N. W., which is open to members and their guests at all times.

Benefits to members have been expanded to include a social program, tutoring services, and dark-room facilities.

Veterans interested in becoming members may contact Phil Lambros, organization treasurer, at the clubhouse. The membership fee is one dollar per semester.

WRA Holds Barn Dance This Week

• THE WOMEN'S Recreational Association will hold a barn dance in the gymnasium Friday from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m., Virginia Myers, chairman, announced today. Admission will be ten cents and refreshments will be sold.

Ralph Case will call for the dancing and will direct a group of ten couples in several demonstration squares. A square dance orchestra will furnish the music.

Opening a series of events which are designed to create opportunities for informal participation in sports and allied activities, the dance is under the supervision of the Women's Recreational Association which was reorganized last Spring for that purpose.

On Wednesday, November 12,

Balloting Deadline Wednesday Night

• REGISTRATION for fraternity balloting ends at midnight tomorrow, IFC secretary Bill Perkins reminds rushmen. Registration forms may be secured from any fraternity or from the office of Max Farrington, Director of Men's Activities. Forms must be turned in to Mr. Farrington's office, Perkins says.

Captain Hamilton, coach of the Navy football team, will speak on his favorite sport—football. Exact time and place will be announced later. This meeting will be open to all students at the University.

Other programs under the direction of the Women's Recreational Association include a roller skating party at Riverside stadium, ice skating at Chevy Chase Ice Palace, a winter picnic, a splash party, and the Fall and Spring banquets.

Homemakers Plan Activities To Tempt Men

• A DRIVE for new members is now in progress to make the Home Economics Club one of importance on the campus, President Oma Hilliard has announced.

All home economics students, whether majoring in this field or not, and all other students interested in its activities are invited to join the club President Hilliard says. Programs outlined for the year include several parties at which club members will be enabled to become better acquainted with one another and the manner of preparing each others' favorite dishes.

At least one meeting will feature an outstanding speaker in the home economics field, and Christmas will be celebrated with a charity benefit party. A special project of the year, such as the previous one that gave assistance to the home economics department of the Philippine University at Manila, will be decided upon.

The "Official Tasters' Club," a

Book Exchange Announces Hours

• BOOK EXCHANGE Co-Manager Stan Kaiser announces that the Exchange will be open every Monday and Tuesday from 10 to 11 p.m. and from 4:30 to 5:45 p.m. throughout the semester. He urges all students to notice the bulletin boards for lists of books to be sold in February and asks all persons holding receipts numbered 1 to 2446 to settle their accounts at once unless they have checked on the books since July 15.

men's auxiliary informally originated during Freshman Orientation Week, is to receive special attention with a buffet supper at a future date.

A kitchen party to be held in the home economics department, Building A, at 5 p.m. on Friday, November 7, will be the first social meeting of the club. All interested in joining this group may attend. Dues are 50 cents per semester.

Miss Kathryn M. Towne, Associate Professor of Home Economics, is the club's advisor.

Council Opens Student Union Use Survey

• A SURVEY to determine specific uses of the Student Union, purchased recently by the University, has been launched by the Student Council, with the appointment of a committee to poll the campus and investigate similar unions at other colleges.

The union, which will be taken over by the University October 22, is expected to house student activity offices, a game room, and dance floor. Appointment of the investigating committee came at Thursday's council meeting on the request of Dr. Marvin.

Low Hoffacker was named chairman. Other members are Charles Lillen, Bill Rockwood, and David Walerstein. A fifth member, to be chosen by the committee, will be reported at the next council meeting.

A written explanation of duties of The Hatchet organizing committee was ordered submitted at the same time. Action came after Larry Woodward, one of the three acting Hatchet editors, asserted staff members were not "too eager" with the editorial board on an indefinite basis, and urged "immediate" council action.

On suggestion of Hoffacker, President Fremont Jewell appointed Dorothy Henry and Russell Smith to investigate University parking conditions.

Change of the council meeting date to 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays was authorized, to go into effect with the meeting following this Thursday's.

Vets Office Asks Location Of Applicants

● THE HOUSING office has received over 150 applications for rooms in Draper and Bradley Halls but cannot accommodate most of the applicants because only about 10 have supplied Washington addresses, Max Farrington, director of men's activities, stated recently.

Neither dormitory has rooms available at present, Mr. Farrington said, but vacancies do occur from time to time and the Housing Office will not be able to aid applicants until Washington addresses are received.

Vacancies Expected

About four or five vacancies are expected this month due to students moving into fraternity houses.

Students are reminded that, in addition to the veterans' dormitories, a large file listing city rooming and boarding houses is maintained in the Housing Office, Mr. Farrington continued.

Rental of city rooming houses is about $30 per month for single rooms, and about $28 per month for double rooms; boarding house rooms range from $50 to $60 per month. Several rooms still obtainable are near the University, Mr. Farrington says.

and still have time to make their 1 p.m. classes.

Library Reserves Council Minutes

● AFTER EACH Student Council meeting a copy of the minutes will be placed in the Reserve Room of the Library where the students will have access to them at their convenience.

The next meeting of the Council will be held in Room A of the Columbian House on Thursday, Oct. 16. All meetings are open to the student body.

Sororities Pledge 131 in Formal Rush Season

● ACCORDING TO the final tabulation at the close of formal rushing by sororities, 131 girls pledged the various Greek letter societies on campus, Miss Kirkbride, director of women's activities, announced.

Crowning the rush activities were gala frolics and formal pledging by all sororities on Thursday night.

All girls who have not pledged and who are interested in rushing are urged to sign up in Miss Kirkbride's office this week—as soon as possible.

Dates for informal rushing are not yet decided upon and will be set in the near future by Pan-Hel.

Dr. Acheson To Address Alumni Group

● DR. EDWARD C. Acheson, associate professor of finance, will address the fall luncheon meeting of the University's General Alumni Association on November 1 at the Mayflower Hotel.

Since Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin has requested that the dinner planned to honor his own 20 years' service as president of the University be cancelled to comply with President Truman's request to save food, he will be a guest of honor at the luncheon. The annual meeting is being held in conjunction with the University Homecoming festivities for the first time.

Dr. Acheson will discuss "America's Role in Europe—Must Pennywise Mean Dollar-foolish?" He is now preparing a report for President Truman on his recent trip to Europe, where he headed an American mission to arrange for the use of surplus foods in the Bi-zonal Area of Germany.

A member of the University faculty since 1936, he served during the war as economic adviser to the Lend-Lease Administration, financial adviser for the War Department in the CBI Theater, and chief of economic intelligence in the ETO for the Office of Strategic Services.

He is the brother of the former Under Secretary of State, Dean Acheson.

Grid Film Series Run By Stahley

• UNDER THE DIRECTION of football coach Skip Stahley, the first in a series of football films will be presented to all students wishing to attend next Wednesday, October 22, at 12:10 p.m. in Lisner Auditorium.

The film presented will be the previous weekend encounter between the Colonials and Wake Forest. Coach Stahley will run the film and also deliver a lecture while the film is in progress pointing out highlights in the game, and also discuss different aspects of football strategy.

All armchair strategists and "second-guessers" should take heed of this opportunity to get a bird's-eye view of the University football team in action.

Every week throughout the football season this policy will continue and students will get a chance to see a few of the games that have been played away. This will definitely be a chance for all students to see just how a ball team operates and what makes it win or lose.

Rain-Soaked Field Scene of Third Straight Buff Loss

By SKIP FOSTER
• A SUPERSATURATED gridiron plus a couple of very costly fumbles resulted in the third straight defeat for The University as the Washington and Lee Generals slid and slushed over the Colonials, 15-6, at Wilson Field in Lexington last Saturday.

After an entire week of rain, the Generals' field was in no condition for anything except mudpies. The net result was bad ball handling, slow running, and a fine mud-show-er for all.

Although the Buff threatened twice in the second period and once in the third, it was only late in the tilt, with about 20 seconds to play, that the lone Colonial tally came.

Captain Carl Butkus, outstanding Colonial tackle who played a magnificent offensive and defensive game, snatched a W. & L. fumble when the General quarterback could not hold a bad pass from center, and lumbered 34 yards across the goal. The attempted placement was low.

The first scoring opportunity for the Colonials came as alert tackle Tony Danowski recovered a fumble (See COLONIALS, Page 8)

Girl Swimmers Hold Tryouts For Probationary Membership

● TRYOUTS FOR Oquassa, synchronized swimming club for girls, will be held today and Thursday from 4 to 5 p.m. at the Y.W.C.A., 17th and K Streets, N. W., to test endurance swimming, basic strokes, diving, and other miscel-

Program plans for the year include initiation, giving swimming demonstrations at pools in the Washington area, and producing the Spring Aquacade to be held April 14 and 15 at the Y.W.C.A. pool.

Last Thursday the club gave a demonstration for prospective members. The program consisted of a solo number by Aurora Suintay, a duet by Dorothy Whitley and Sue Britton, "Pickle in the Middle and the Mustard on Top" by Dorothy Whitley, Sue Berger, and the "Waltz for Nine" by other members of the club.

Further information is available by calling Miss Virginia Dennis, advisor to the group, on University extension 340, or by calling Virginia Myers, president of the club at MEtropolitan 5322.

scores and two first downs each. This battle will be replayed sometime this week to decide the final victor.

League A showed the reverse of the close games played at nine as Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Theta Delta Chi, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon all scored at least three touchdowns to swamp their opposition. These victorious teams were impressive in victory and as a result of last year's playing have fielded more powerful squads for this year's competition.

Intramural Ping Pong To Begin

● SIXTEEN FRATERNITY table tennis teams composed of five men each open Interfraternity ping-pong season this Friday night in the University gym where eight matches are slated. Ping-pong matches will be carded in the gym each Friday night till the middle of December when championship play-offs are held.

Two eight-team leagues have been drawn up and each squad will meet the other seven teams in its league before the finals. Each match is formed from five singles battles with the individual match winner having at least three singles victories for the evening.

Tau Kappa Epsilon, Acacia, Sigma Nu, Phi Sigma Kappa, Tau Epsilon Phi, Alpha Epsilon Pi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Theta Delta Chi were drawn for league A with Kappa Alpha, Delta Tau Delta, Pi Kappa Alpha, Argonauts, Sigma Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Alpha and Kappa Sigma in league B.

The Interfraternity Council approved new athletic regulations which this year feature the creation of the position of IFC Athletic Representative to be in attendance at the site of Greek sponsored sports. His duties will entail handling of all forfeiture claims, post-

University Hoopmen Assemble For Opening Practice Session

● A LARGE TURNOUT accompanied the opening University basketball practice session as approximately forty men appeared to display their talents.

Coach Arthur "Otts" Zahn assembled the prospective Colonial representatives and put a new group, which included Bill Cantwell, Dave Shapiro, Phil McNiff, Art Cerra, Len Small, Maynard Halthcock, and Bernie Citrenbaum, last year's letter men, through a rigorous drill that stressed such fundamentals as pivoting and dribbling.

and Don McNary through graduation, the team was stripped of its towering six footers. However, Ray Adler, Jim Bracy, and Jack Lewis, a trio of tall boys may be able to solve the problem.

The team will train for six weeks before the first game, to be played with the Quantico Marines on December 1. The first home games will be played on December 6, with Wake Forest supplying the competition.

aneous skills. These will be graded on a point system.

Those who pass will be notified by mail and will be admitted as "Minnows" for one semester. If enough interest is shown during this probationary period, the "Minnows" will be admitted as Oquassa, Virginia Myers, president of the club, says.

You probably know a number of men in your class who were pilots in the wartime Air Force. They are the best advertisements for the Aviation Cadet program. Talk with them about it.

Chances are, they'll tell you their service as pilots was one of the most interesting and exciting phases of their lives. Fast action, comradeship, and the chance to serve their country paid them dividends they don't forget... added something to their stature and poise that they couldn't have gotten anywhere else.

Cadet life today is no different. As a potential pilot in the new U. S. Air Force, you serve at a time of equal importance to the nation. Freedom, responsibility, the chance to use your own initiative are all yours.

The training you get is the finest your government can provide - $35,000 worth for every Cadet.

You're taught by skilled instructors, fly the best airplanes. Your living facilities are excellent.

Learning to fly today opens profitable fields to you in aviation - which is expanding more rapidly than at any other time in history.

Pilot training is open, now, to single men, 20 to 26½ years old, who have completed at least one-half the credits for a degree from an accredited college or university - or pass an equivalent examination. Cadets completing the course will be commissioned Second Lieutenants, ORC, and assigned to active duty as pilots with the Air Force. During their tours of duty they will be given a chance to qualify for Regular Air Force Commissions. This is your opportunity! Look into it today at your nearest U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

Colonials

on the Generals' 35. End Dick Koester, a top figure in all Colonial drives, who rated the highest approval in last Saturday's encounter, took the ball for a first down to the 25 on an end around. The Buffmen worked the ball down for a few more yards but could make no further headway.

Colonial back Al DuGoff, aided by the flashing blocking of Guards Jimmy Regan and John Sanders, returned a W. & L. punt 51 yards to the Generals' 34. On the next play, Dick Koester, picking up fine interference from Quarterback Joe Wapinsky on another end around play, raced 24 yards to the 9. Bill Spangler's attempted line bucks and Frank Cavallo's attempt to pass, which was smothered for a loss, failed to cash in.

The Generals' scoring came in the first, third, and fourth periods. Quarterback Dick Working's pass to Brian Bell set up the first score on the Buff 16. Fullback Wally Michaels cut outside tackle on the next play and raced for the touchdown. Ed Tenney, who later boot-ed a 13 yard field goal in the third period, missed the extra point.

The final General score came in the fourth period on Working's long pass to Halfback Gene Bennett, who came in for one play and got in behind the Buff secondary to grab the ball and score.

Colonial line play in this game was at its best since the opening of the season. Hard charging linemen like Harvey Shipman and Bob Unger were responsible for the Buff's total yardage, greater than that gained on the ground by W. & L. Excellent ball handling by Center Don Druckenmiller was notably outstanding.

are ample tables for all," he continued.

Approximately fifty waiters will be on duty at the Armory to serve refreshments at the tables. All concessions will be operated by the University.

Tickets for the Homecoming Ball are now on sale at a booth in the Student Club for $2.40 each. Later, they will also go on sale at other places about the campus.

On October 31, a parade will be held from the University to Griffith Stadium where the Colonials will be playing their second home game. The route of the parade will be up 21st Street to K Street, down K Street to Vermont Avenue, out Vermont Avenue to T Street, down T Street to 5th Street and out 5th Street to the stadium.

Upon arriving at the stadium, the parade will continue on to the field, provided the field is not soft. A judges' stand will be set up at the stadium to select the winning floats in the parade. Three cups will be awarded for best floats. Space will be reserved at the stadium for parking and seats will be reserved in the stadium for members of the parade.

No limitation has been placed upon the size of the floats. However, the Homecoming Committee requests that the floats do not be so heavy that they will sink into the field. A limit of fifty dollars has been set for each organization.

A poster contest has been sponsored by the Homecoming Committee with prizes of ten dollars, five dollars and two tickets to the Homecoming Ball to be awarded for the best posters. Posters must contain the name of the dance and the orchestras plus time, location and price of admission.
